

A Purr and a Wag of the Tail To ...

Sue Munson for arranging the donation and delivery of 6 tons (wow!) of cat litter.

Girl Scout Troop 661 for packaging stockings for our shelter animals during the holiday season.

Carole Braun and Marti Bunde for making special catnip treats for the kitties during the holidays.

St. Cloud Technical & Community College students for donating cash and supplies to our shelter!

Coborn's and Cashwise and their customers for together donating about $700 in gift cards. These were collected through their Good Neighbor program. There are bar code slips available at the registers for customers to ring up with their order. They collect them all year, and then the stores match what the customers donate.

Becker Middle School students, specifically Mrs. Feierabend's homeroom class, for choosing TCHS as the beneficiary of their "Penny War" drive. Because her class won the challenge, all the students' pennies went to TCHS. All those pennies added up to $1,200.

St. Cloud Financial Credit Union, for all they did for us in connection with TCHS being the featured charity at a St. Cloud State University men's hockey game.

Bell Bank employee Terri Ronnery for choosing TCHS as their recipient of a $2,500 "pay it forward" gift.

Make it Mac's Makerspace for doing a holiday ornament fundraiser to benefit the shelter.

Metro Bus for picking us as the recipient of their "Casual Day for Charity" fundraiser.

To the countless supporters who gave our staff and volunteers nice letters and treats around the holiday season. One of them, from TCHS friend and volunteer Julie Aronson Dehnel, said this: "You people are so dedicated as you all work together to improve the health of the companion animals we love and enjoy."

To all the businesses and participants who came to TCHS' first Trunk or Treat.

Our local Raising Cane's for donating some of the profits of

Thank You, Amazon Workers!

Tri-County Humane Society received a wonderful year-end surprise: The employees at our local Amazon warehouse selected us to receive a whole lot of supplies off our wish list! They purchased these items for us and delivered them.

sales of "National Lam-pool's Christmas Vacation" plush dolls to our shelter.

Lamar Advertising for donating to TCHS an electronic billboard promoting our Fabulous Five Dollar Feline cat sale. Thank you also to volunteer Naomi Poppler for making the design.

Gate City Bank for gifting TCHS with a snowblower!
